Parks & Recreation

1986 Article Index

Subject Index

AGING

Fees and Charges for Seniors: Do They Deserve a Break Today?, Ted Tedrick, August, page 28.

Leisure and Aging, An Incentive for Living, Ladd Colston, August, page 35.

Life Review: Memories and Melodies of Old Age, Jessyna M. McDonald and Carla E. Sayers-Tabourne, August, page 24.

Nursing Home Recreation—An Unchanging Diet of Bingo, Birthdays, and Bible?, by Joe Teaff and Barbara Wilhite, August, page 38.

AQUATICS

How to Cut the High Cost of Scuba, James McNally, April, page 43.

Lifeguard Competitions: An Effective Motivational Tool, Gerald M. Dworkin, April, Page 46.

Lifeguard Leadership Training: Which One to Choose?, Leila Vaughn, April, page 54.

One Water Park's Formula for Success, Ralph Richard, April, page 48.

Safety Management for Water Play Facilities, Claude Thompson, April, page 36.

Swim Shop Express Lessons, Betty Evenbeck, April, page 45.

Water Slides: Look Before You Leap, Dan Barks, April, page 51.

ARMED FORCES

Navy Puts Fun Back Into Fitness, The, Debbie Gaggiani-Tagg, December, page 31.

CITIZEN INVOLVEMENT

ABCs of Building a Park and Recreation Foundation, The, Barry Mangum, July, page 54.

COMPUTERS

How Computer Reports Can Improve Park Management, John Berkebile, February, page 40.

CONGRESS FOR RECREATION AND PARKS

Congress '85 Explores the Essence of Living, January, page 28.

Sunny, Sensational Anaheim: Site of the 1986 NRPA Congress, June, page 29.

Where Do We Go From Here? 1986 Congress Prepares for the Future, September, page 40.

COOPERATIVE EFFORTS

LIVE from Central Park: Learning and Involvement in the Environment, John L. Hart, February, page 34.

National Recreation Resources: At a Crossroads, Joyce Kelly and Wesley Henry, July, page 45.

San Francisco's Successful Public/Private Partnerships, Mary E. Burns, July, page 28.

EDITORIAL

Accreditation: A Step Toward Professionalism, November, page 28.

Anaheim '86 Today's Challenge: Preparing for the Future, September, page 38.

Fitness: The Antidote to an Ailing America, December, page 22.

Inter-Nation Recreation and Parks—A Growing Opportunity, March, page 34.

Parks & Recreation

1986 Article Index

Subject Index

AGING

Fees and Charges for Seniors: Do They Deserve a Break Today?, Ted Tedrick, August, page 28.

Leisure and Aging, An Incentive for Living, Ladd Colston, August, page 35.

Life Review: Memories and Melodies of Old Age, Jessyna M. McDonald and Carla E. Sayers-Tabourne, August, page 24.

Nursing Home Recreation—An Unchanging Diet of Bingo, Birthdays, and Bible?, by Joe Teaff and Barbara Wilhite, August, page 38.

AQUATICS

How to Cut the High Cost of Scuba, James McNally, April, page 43.

Lifeguard Competitions: An Effective Motivational Tool, Gerald M. Dworkin, April, Page 46.

Lifeguard Leadership Training: Which One to Choose?, Leila Vaughn, April, page 54.

One Water Park's Formula for Success, Ralph Richard, April, page 48.

Safety Management for Water Play Facilities, Claude Thompson, April, page 36.

Swim Shop Express Lessons, Betty Evenbeck, April, page 45.

Water Slides: Look Before You Leap, Dan Barks, April, page 51.

ARMED FORCES

Navy Puts Fun Back Into Fitness, The, Debbie Gaggiani-Tagg, December, page 31.

CITIZEN INVOLVEMENT

ABCs of Building a Park and Recreation Foundation, The, Barry Mangum, July, page 54.

COMPUTERS

How Computer Reports Can Improve Park Management, John Berkebile, February, page 40.

CONGRESS FOR RECREATION AND PARKS

Congress '85 Explores the Essence of Living, January, page 28.

Sunny, Sensational Anaheim: Site of the 1986 NRPA Congress, June, page 29.

Where Do We Go From Here? 1986 Congress Prepares for the Future, September, page 40.

COOPERATIVE EFFORTS

LIVE from Central Park: Learning and Involvement in the Environment, John L. Hart, February, page 34.

National Recreation Resources: At a Crossroads, Joyce Kelly and Wesley Henry, July, page 45.

San Francisco's Successful Public/Private Partnerships, Mary E. Burns, July, page 28.

EDITORIAL

Accreditation: A Step Toward Professionalism, November, page 28.

Anaheim '86 Today's Challenge: Preparing for the Future, September, page 38.

Fitness: The Antidote to an Ailing America, December, page 22.

Inter-Nation Recreation and Parks—A Growing Opportunity, March, page 34.

Is It Worth It?, June, page 24.
Liability Crisis, The, February, page 32.
Looking to the Future: An Older Population, August, page 22.
More Than Just a Splash, It's the Wave of the Future, April, page 34.
NRPA in Transition: A Call for Solidarity and Continuing Strength, July, page 26.
Reflections for the New Year, January, page 26.
Seeking Directions for the Future, May, page 30.
Tourism and the National Parks, October, page 28.

EDUCATION
Certification Exams—Let's Proceed, William R. McKinney and Michael S. Pope, June, page 42.
Leisure Studies in Academia: No Man's Land, Becky Fortune and Kenneth Mobily, September, page 74.
Quest for COPA Recognition, The, Donald D. Henkel and Tony A. Mobley, November, page 50.
Recreation and Education Combine in Newest Zoo Exhibits, David B. Slusarenko, June, page 26.

EVALUATION
Ten-Year Look at State Park Systems, A, W. Donald Martin, July, page 40.

FACILITY PLANNING AND DESIGN
Using Color Effectively in Park and Recreation Facilities, Donald W. Caudill, September, page 78.
Zoos: A Blueprint for Fiscal Survival, Katherine Zwerin, March, page 42.

FITNESS
Cincinnati's Healthline Fitness Course Takes It to the Streets, Diann L. Viox, December, page 44.
Instructor Certification: Making Fitness Programs Safer, Heyward L. Nash, December, page 24.
Kettering's Employee Wellness Program—Getting Employees on the Right Track, Mollye Pugh, December, page 34.
Navy Puts Fun Back Into Fitness, The, Debbie Gaggiani-Tagg, December, page 31.
Senior Games: Getting Better With Age, Beth E. Wilson and Margot H. Raynor, December, page 36.
World Expo 88—Leisure in the Age of Technology, Maria Menso, December, page 42.
Youth Fitness: A Challenge to Recreation Professionals, Matthew Guidry, December, page 39.

FUTURE
Art and Science of Futuring, The, J.P. Tindell, May, page 32.
Future Free Time: How Will People Use It?, Edward Cornish, May, page 57.
Future of Leisure Services: Will We Be Architects or Reactors?, The, Fred Humphrey, May, page 38.
Future of Outdoor Recreation: What the Trends Tell Us, The, Gina McLellan, May, page 44.
Look at America's Economic Future, A, Sheldon W. Stahl, May, page 50.
World Expo 88—Leisure in the Age of Technology, Maria Menso, December, page 42.

INTERNATIONAL RECREATION
Tradition and Reform: China in Transition, Robert Frazer and Charles Hartsoe, March, page 36.

INTERPRETATION
Recreation and Education Combine in Newest Zoo Exhibits, David B. Slusarenko, June, page 26.

INTERVIEWS
Don Hodel: President Reagan's Point Man for Parks and Recreation, August, page 52.
"NRPA Members Are Engaged in a Very Important Enterprise" Part Two of an Interview with Interior Secretary Don Hodel, September, page 66.

LAND USE
Assessing the Availability of Private Lands for Recreation, Neil Sampson, July, page 34.
Ten-Year Look at State Park Systems, A, W. Donald Martin, July, page 40.

LAW ENFORCEMENT
Psychological Screening of Park Police, William O. Dwyer, Leslie E. Gray, and Wayne T. Kicklighter, April, page 57.
Future Trends in Park Protection, William O. Dwyer and Dan S. Murrell, February, page 52.

LEGISLATION/POLITICAL AWARENESS
Preserving Public Recreational Opportunities: L&WCF and UPARR Requirements, D. Thomas Ross, June, page 38.

MAINTENANCE
How Computer Reports Can Improve Park Management, John Berkebile, February, page 40.
How to Establish a Preventive Tree Maintenance Program, Carl Wilson, February, page 45.
LIVE from Central Park: Learning and Involvement in the Environment, John L. Hart, February, page 34.
Ten Principles for Contract Administration, Michael J. Heydt, February, page 48.

MANAGEMENT
ABCs of Building a Park and Recreation Foundation, The, Barry Mangum, July, page 54.
Career Development: Challenging the New Breed of Employee, Cheryl Beeler, September, page 54.
How to Delegate and Like It, Cheryl S. Beeler, June, page 46.

Ten Principles for Contract Administration, Michael J. Heydt, February, page 48.

MARKETING
Facilitating Adult Participation in Organized Recreation Programs, Ellen O'Sullivan, January, page 58.
Make Television Work for Parks and Recreation, Michael J. Aune, June page 34.
Marketing for Tourism—A Growing Field, M. Uysal, October, page 57.
Move to Marketing, The: Land Between the Lakes, Douglas McEwen and Richard Paterson, November, page 36.

MENTAL HEALTH
Psychological Screening of Park Police, William O. Dwyer, Leslie E. Gray, and Wayne T. Kicklighter, April, page 57.

NRPA LAW REVIEW
Athletic Field Fence in Disrepair Costs $80K to "Fix," March, page 23.
Baseball Duty to Provide Protective Screening for Spectators, September, page 22.
Golf Course Liability for Injury to Adjacent Homeowner, May, page 24.
Illinois Immunity for Negligent Supervision of Public Recreation, April, page 28.
Intoxicated Youth Leaves Park, Hits Cyclist Who Sues County, February, page 62.
Minnesota Bill Provides Limited Public Recreational Immunity, July, page 20.
No Ordinary Negligence Liability Under Recreational Immunity Statutes, January, page 20.
Notice of Vicious Propensities Determines Animal Liability, August, page 8.
President's Commission Examines Public Recreation on Private Lands, June, page 16.
Racquet and Health Club Recent Supervision and Waiver Cases, December, page 16.
Rec Use Law Applies to Public Land in NY, NE, ID, OH & WA, October, page 22.
WI, NJ & LA Limit Public Rec Use Immunity to "True Outdoors," November, page 18.

PARK DEVELOPMENT/PLANNING
Ten-Year Look at State Park Systems, A, W. Donald Martin, July, page 40.

PERSONNEL
Career Development: Challenging the New Breed of Employee, Dr. Cheryl Beeler, September, page 54.
How to Delegate and Like It, Cheryl S. Beeler, June, page 46.
Psychological Screening of Park Police, William O. Dwyer, Leslie E. Gray, and Wayne T. Kicklighter, April, page 57.

PROGRAMMING
Facilitating Adult Participation in Organized Recreation Programs, Ellen O'Sullivan, January, page 58.
Fees and Charges for Seniors: Do They Deserve a Break Today?, Ted Tedrick, August, page 28.
Hershey: More Than a Track Meet, February, page 56.
Including Disabled Participants: Four Goals for Recreation Management, Julian U. Stein, January, page 49.
Make Television Work for Parks and Recreation, Michael J. Aune, June, page 34.
Nursing Home Recreation—An Unchanging Diet of Bingo, Birthdays, and Bible?, Joe Teaff and Barbara Wilhite, August, page 38.
Outdoor Adventure Programs Build Character Five Ways, Lester R. Zook, January, page 54.
Outdoor Adventure: Wilderness Programs for the Physically Disabled, Diana Richardson, November, page 43.
Programming for Peace, Edward R. Walsh, March, page 50.
Tennis in Your Community: USTA Courts Success, Rachel Ingber, November, page 46.
TV in the Parks, Sacrilege or Smart?, Melisa McCampbell, September, page 60.
Word to the Wise: Old Isn't Old Anymore, A Frances Wallach, January, page 62.

PUBLIC VISIBILITY/COMMUNICATION
Make Television Work for Parks and Recreation, Michael J. Aune, June, page 34.

RECREATION RESOURCES
Future of Outdoor Recreation: What the Trends Tell Us, The, Gina McLellan, May, page 44.
Greenlining for Landscape Preservation, Dierdre K. Hirner and James D. Mertes, November, page 30.
Move to Marketing: Land Between the Lakes, The, Douglas McEwen and Richard Paterson, November, page 36.
Outdoor Adventure: Wilderness Programs for the Physically Disabled, Diana Richardson, November, page 43.

RESEARCH
Contribution of State Parks to State Economies, Randall S. Anderson, Jay A. Leitch and John F. Mittleider, October, page 62.
Research Breathes New Life Into Senior Travel Program, Michael Blazey, October, page 54.
What Research Doesn't Tell the Practitioner, Alan Ewert, March, page 46.

SAFETY AND HEALTH
Safety Management for Water Play Facilities, Claude Thompson, April, page 36.

SPECIAL POPULATIONS

Fees and Charges for Seniors: Do They Deserve a Break Today?, Ted Tedrick, August, page 28.

Including Disabled Participants: Four Goals for Recreation Management, Julian U. Stein, January, page 49.

Leisure and Aging, An Incentive for Living, Ladd Colston, August, page 35.

Life Review: Memories and Melodies of Old Age, Jessyna M. McDonald and Carla E. Sayers-Tabourne, August, page 24.

Nursing Home Recreation—An Unchanging Diet of Bingo, Birthdays, and Bible?, Joe Teaff and Barbara Wilhite, August, page 38.

Outdoor Adventure: Wilderness Programs for the Physically Disabled, Diana Richardson, November, page 43.

Senior Games: Getting Better With Age, Beth E. Wilson and Margot H. Raynor, December, page 36.

Word to the Wise: Old Isn't Old Anymore, A, Frances Wallach, January, page 62.

SPORTS

Hershey: More Than a Track Meet, February, page 56.

Intercollegiate Athletics: A Clash of Values, Louis F. Twardzik, March, page 54.

TOURISM

Contribution of State Parks to State Economies, Randall S. Anderson, Jay A. Leitch and John F. Mittleider, October, page 62.

Illinois Tourism and Recreation: An Economic Corridor of Opportunity, Sharon Sharp, October, page 46.

Marketing for Tourism—A Growing Field, M. Uysal, October, page 57.

Research Breathes New Life Into Senior Travel Program, Michael Blazey, October, page 54.

Tourism and the National Parks, Priscilla R. Baker, October, page 50.

Tourism Comes of Age in the 1980s, John D. Hunt, October, page 30.

Tourism Connection: When Public and Private Leisure Services Merge, The, John L. Crompton and Sarah L. Richardson, October, page 38.

TRENDS

Art and Science of Futuring, The, J.P. Tindell, May, page 32.

Future Free Time: How Will People Use It?, Edward Cornish, May, page 57.

Future of Leisure Services: Will We Be Architects or Reactors?, The, Fred Humphrey, May, page 38.

Future of Outdoor Recreation: What the Trends Tell Us, The, Gina McLellan, May, page 44.

Future Trends in Park Protection, William O. Dwyer and Dan S. Murrell, February, page 52.

Look at America's Economic Future, A, Sheldon W. Stahl, May, page 50.

VIEWPOINT

Intercollegiate Athletics: A Clash of Values, Louis F. Twardzik, March, page 54.

Word to the Wise: Old Isn't Old Anymore, A, Frances Wallach, January, page 62.

VOLUNTEERS

LIVE from Central Park: Learning and Involvement in the Environment, John L. Hart, February, page 34.

WASHINGTON SCENE

Billboard Reform Loses in House: Proponents Look Toward Senate, page 12.

Congress Ready for Full Second Session, February, page 24.

Deficit Reduction Plan Impacts Interior Budget; 1986 LWCF Funds Face Possible Recision, March, page 15.

LWCF and Other Business Keep Congress Busy During Summer Months, October, page 8.

NRPA Advocates Recreation Management for National Forests, December, page 12.

NRPA Coalition Activities Grow, September, page 16.

NRPA Focuses on Land and Water Conservation Fund, Therapeutic Recreation Issues, July, page 12.

President's Budget Cuts Park and Recreation Programs, April, page 20.

Proposed Rescissions Fail to Clear Congress, June, page 13.

Senate Tax Reform May Allow Better Protection of Outdoors While NRPA Pushes for Recognition of Olmsted Parks, August, page 14.

Trustees Adopt Policy Statements, January, page 8.

ZOOS

Recreation and Education Combine in Newest Zoo Exhibits, David B. Slusarenko, June, page 26.

Zoos: A Blueprint for Fiscal Survival, Katherine Zwerin, March, page 42.

Anderson, Randall S., Contribution of State Parks to State Economies, October, page 62.

Aune, Michael J., Make Television Work for Parks and Recreation, June, page 34.

Baker, Priscilla R., Tourism and the National Parks,

October, page 50.
Barks, Dan, Water Slides: Look Before You Leap, April, page 51.
Beeler, Cheryl S., How to Delegate and Like It, June, page 46.
Beeler, Cheryl, S., Career Development: Challenging the New Breed of Employee, September, page 54.
Berkebile, John, How Computer Reports Can Improve Park Management, February, page 40.
Blazey, Michael, Research Breathes New Life Into Senior Travel Program, October, page 54.
Burns, Mary E., San Francisco's Successful Public/Private Partnerships, July, page 28.
Caudill, Donald W., Using Color Effectively in Park and Recreation Facilities, September, page 78.
Colston, Ladd, Leisure and Aging, An Incentive for Living, August, page 35.
Cornish, Edward, Future Free Time: How Will People Use It?, May, page 57.
Crompton, John L., The Tourism Connection: When Public and Private Leisure Services Merge, October, page 38.
Dworkin, Gerald M., Lifeguard Competitions: An Effective Motivational Tool, April, page 46.
Dwyer William O., Future Trends in Park Protection, February, page 52.
Dwyer, William O., Psychological Screening of Park Police, April, page 57.
Evenbeck, Betty, Swim Shop Express Lessons, April, page 45.
Ewert, Alan, What Research Doesn't Tell the Practitioner, March, page 46.
Fortune, Becky, Leisure Studies in Academia: No Man's Land, September, page 74.
Frazer, Robert, Tradition and Reform: China in Transition, March, page 36.
Gaggiani-Tagg, Debbie, The Navy Puts Fun Back Into Fitness, December, page 31.
Gray, Leslie E., Psychological Screening of Park Police, April, page 57.
Guidry, Matthew, Youth Fitness: A Challenge to Recreation Professionals, December, page 39.
Hart, John L., LIVE from Central Park: Learning and Involvement in the Environment, February, page 34.
Hartsoe, Charles, Tradition and Reform: China in Transition, March, page 36.
Henkel, Donald D., The Quest for COPA Recognition, November, page 50.
Henry, Wesley, National Recreation Resources: At a Crossroads, July, page 45.
Heydt, Michael J., Ten Principles for Contract Administration, February, page 48.
Hirner, Dierdre K., Greenlining for Landscape Preservation, November, page 30.
Humphrey, Fred, The Future of Leisure Services: Will We Be Architects or Reactors?, May, page 38.
Hunt, John D., Tourism Comes of Age in the 1980s, October, page 30.
Ingber, Rachel, Tennis in Your Community: USTA Courts Success, November, page 46.
Kelly, Joyce, National Recreation Resources: At a Crossroads, July, page 45.
Kicklighter, Wayne T., Psychological Screening of Park Police, April, page 57.
Leitch, Jay A., Contribution of State Parks to State Economies, October, page 62.
Mangum, Barry, The ABCs of Building a Park and Recreation Foundation, July, page 54.
Martin W. Donald, A Ten-Year Look at State Park Systems, July, page 40.
McCampbell, Melisa, TV in the Parks: Sacrilege or Smart?, September, page 60.
McDonald, Jessyna M., Life Review: Memories and Melodies of Old Age, August, page 24.
McEwen, Douglas, The Move to Marketing: Land Between the Lakes, November, page 36.
McKinney, William R., Certification Exams—Let's Proceed, June, page 42.
McLellan, Gina, The Future of Outdoor Recreation: What the Trends Tell Us, May, page 44.
McNally, James, How to Cut the High Cost of Scuba, April, page 43.
Menso, Maria, World Expo 88—Leisure in the Age of Technology, December, page 42.
Mertes, James D., Greenlining for Landscape Preservation, November, page 30.
Mittleider, John F., Contribution of State Parks to State Economies, October, page 62.
Mobily, Kenneth, Leisure Studies in Academia: No Man's Land, September, page 74.
Mobley, Tony A., The Quest for COPA Recognition, November, page 50.
Murrell, Dan S., Future Trends in Park Protection, February, page 52.
Nash, Heyward L., Instructor Certification: Making Fitness Programs Safer, December, page 24.
O'Sullivan, Ellen, Facilitating Adult Participation in Organized Recreation Programs, January, page 58.
Paterson, Richard, The Move to Marketing: Land Between the Lakes, November, page 36.
Pope, Michael S., Certification Exams—Let's Proceed, June, page 42.
Pugh, Mollye, Kettering's Employee Wellness Program—Getting Employees on the Right Track, December, page 34.
Raynor, Margot H., Senior Games: Getting Better With Age, December, page 36.
Richard, Ralph, One Water Park's Formula for Success, April, page 48.
Richardson, Diana, Outdoor Adventure: Wilderness Programs for the Physically Disabled, November, page 43.
Richardson, Sarah L., The Tourism Connection: When Public and Private Leisure Services Merge, October, page 38.
Ross, D. Thomas, Preserving Public Recreational Opportunities: L&WCF and UPARR Requirements, June, page 38.
Sampson, Neil, Assessing the Availability of Private Lands for Recreation, July, page 34.

Sayers-Tabourne, Carla E., Life Review: Memories and Melodies of Old Age, August, page 24.
Sharp, Sharon, Illinois Tourism and Recreation: An Economic Corridor of Opportunity, October, page 46.
Slusarenko, David B., Recreation and Education Combine in Newest Zoo Exhibits, June, page 26.
Stahl, Sheldon W., A Look at America's Economic Future, May, page 50.
Stein, Julian U., Including Disabled Participants: Four Goals for Recreation Management, January, page 49.
Teaff, Joe, Nursing Home Recreation—An Unchanging Diet of Bingo, Birthdays, and Bible?, August, page 38.
Tedrick, Ted, Fees and Charges for Seniors: Do They Deserve a Break Today?, August, page 28.
Thompson, Claude, Safety Management for Water Play Facilities, April, page 36.
Tindell, J.P., The Art and Science of Futuring, May, page 32.
Twardzik, Louis F., Intercollegiate Athletics: A Clash of Values, March, page 54.
Uysal, M., Marketing for Tourism—A Growing Field, October, page 57.
Vaughn, Leila, Lifeguard Leadership Training: Which One to Choose?, April, page 54.
Viox, Diann L., Cincinnati's Healthline Fitness Course Takes It to the Streets, December, page 44.
Wallach, Frances, A Word to the Wise: Old Isn't Old Anymore, January, page 62.
Walsh, Edward R., Programming for Peace, March, page 50.
Wilhite, Barbara, Nursing Home Recreation—An Unchanging Diet of Bingo, Birthdays, and Bible?, August, page 38.
Wilson, Beth E., Senior Games: Getting Better With Age, December, page 36.
Wilson, Carl, How to Establish a Preventive Tree Maintenance Program, February, page 45.
Zwerin, Katherine, Zoos: A Blueprint for Fiscal Survival, March, page 42.
Zook, Lester R., Outdoor Adventure Programs Build Character Five Ways, January, page 54.

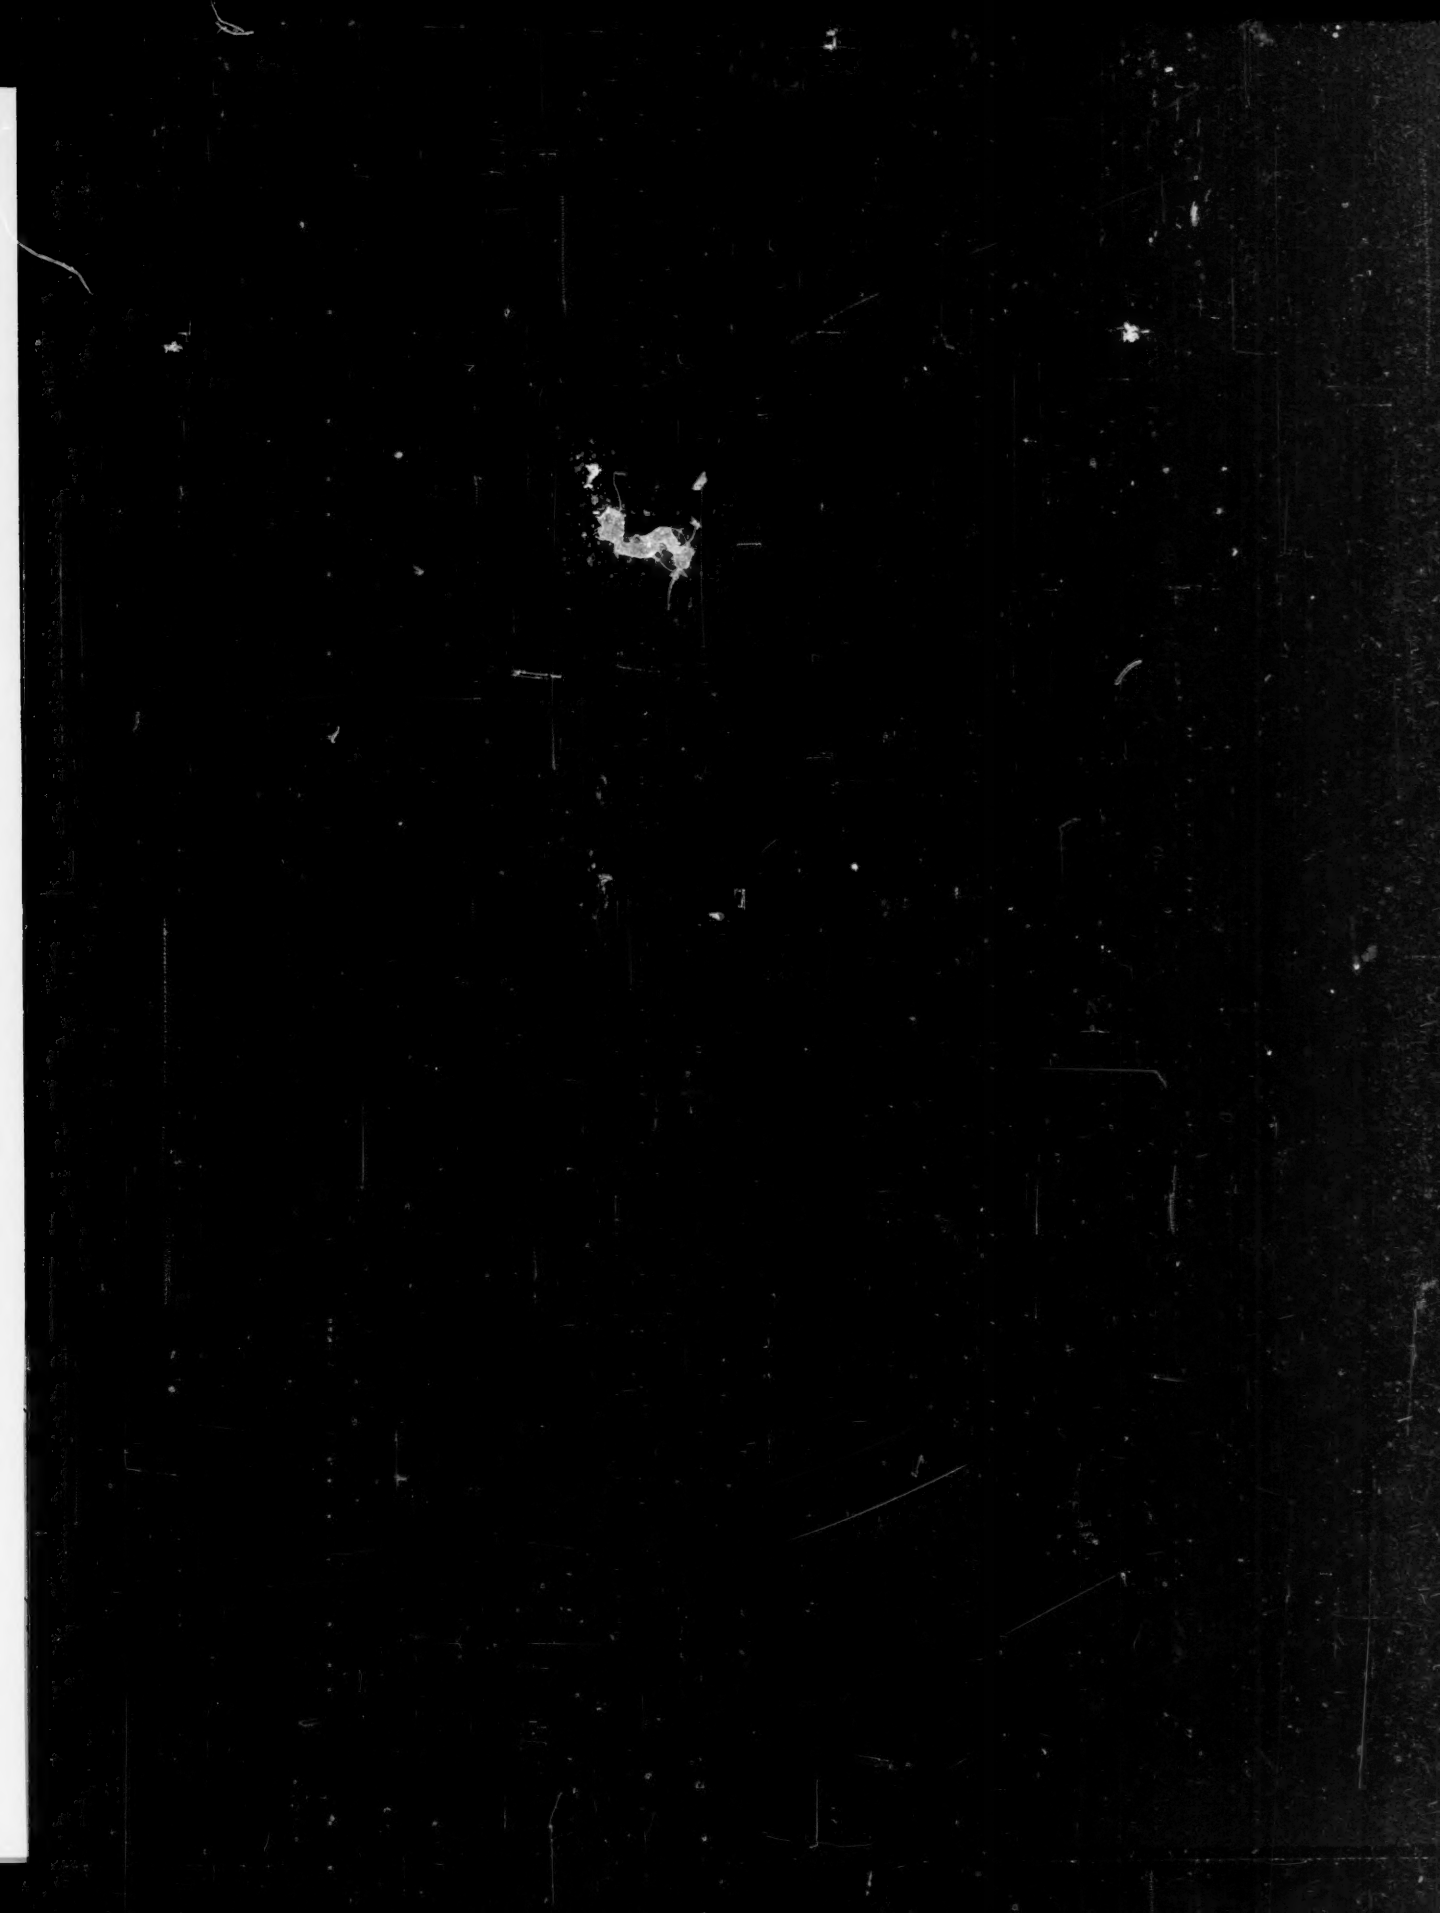
TITLE INDEX

ABCs of Building a Park and Recreation Foundation, The Barry Mangum, July, page 54.
Art and Science of Futuring, The, J.P. Tindell, May, page 32.
Assessing the Availability of Private Lands for Recreation, Neil Sampson, July, page 34.
Career Development: Challenging the New Breed of Employee, Dr. Cheryl Beeler, September, page 54.
Certification Exams—Let's Proceed, William R. McKinney and Michael S. Pope, June, page 42.
Cincinnati's Healthline Fitness Course Takes It to the Streets, Diann L. Viox, December, page 44.
Congress '85 Explores the Essence of Living, January, page 28.
Contributions of State Parks to State Economies, Randall S. Anderson, Jay A. Leitch and John F. Mittleider, October, page 62.
Don Hodel: President Reagan's Point Man for Parks and Recreation, August, page 52.
Facilitating Adult Participation in Organized Recreation Programs, Ellen O'Sullivan, January, page 58.
Fees and Charges for Seniors: Do They Deserve a Break Today?, Ted Tedrick, August, page 28.
Future Free Time: How Will People Use It?, Edward Cornish, May, page 57.
Future of Leisure Services: Will We Be Architects or Reactors? The, Fred Humphrey, May, page 38.
Future of Outdoor Recreation: What the Trends Tell Us, The, Gina McLellan, May, page 44.
Future Trends in Park Protection, William O. Dwyer and Dan S. Murrell, February, page 52.
Greenlining for Landscape Preservation, Dierdre K. Hirner and James D. Mertes, November, page 30.
Hershey: More Than a Track Meet, February, page 56.
How Computer Reports Can Improve Park Management, John Berkebile, February, page 40.
How to Cut the High Cost of Scuba, James McNally, April, page 43.
How to Delegate and Like It, Cheryl S. Beeler, June, page 46.
How to Establish a Preventive Tree Management Program, Carl Wilson, February, page 45.
Illinois Tourism and Recreation: An Economic Corridor of Opportunity, Sharon Sharp, October, page 46.
Including Disabled Participants: Four Goals for Recreation Management, Julain U. Stein, January, page 49.
Instructor Certification: Making Fitness Programs Safer, Heyward L. Nash, December, page 24.
Intercollegiate Athletics: A Clash of Values, Louis F. Twardzik, March, page 54.
Kettering's Employee Wellness Program—Getting Employees on the Right Track, Mollye Pugh, December, page 34.
Leisure and Aging, An Incentive for Living, Ladd Colston, August, page 35.
Leisure Studies in Academia: No Man's Land, Becky Fortune and Kenneth Mobily, September, page 74.
Lifeguard Competitions: An Effective Motivational Tool, Gerald M. Dworkin, April, page 46.
Lifeguard Leadership Training: Which One to Choose? Leila Vaughn, April, page 54.
Life Review: Memories and Melodies of Old Age, Jessyna M. McDonald and Carla W. Sayers-Tabourne,

August, page 24.
LIVE from Central Park: Learning and Involvement in the Environment, John L. Hart, February, page 34.
Look at America's Economic Future, A, Sheldon W. Stahl, May, page 50.
Make Television Work for Parks and Recreation, Michael J. Aune, June, page 34.
Marketing for Tourism—A Growing Field, M. Uysal, October, page 57.
Move to Marketing: Land Between the Lakes, The, Douglas McEwen and Richard Paterson, November, page 36.
National Recreation Resources: At a Crossroads, Joyce Kelly and Wesley Henry, July, page 45.
Navy Puts Fun Back Into Fitness, The, Debbie Gaggiani-Tagg, December, page 31.
"NRPA Members Are Engaged in a Very Important Enterprise," Part Two of an Interview with Interior Secretary Don Hodel, September, page 66.
Nursing Home Recreation—An Unchanging Diet of Bingo, Birthdays, and Bible?, Joe Teaff and Barbara Wilhite, August, page 38.
One Water Park's Formula for Success, Ralph Richard, April, page 48.
Outdoor Adventure Programs Build Character Five Ways, Lester R. Zook, January, page 54.
Outdoor Adventure: Wilderness Programs for the Physically Disabled, Diana Richardson, November, page 43.
Preserving Public Recreational Opportunities: L&WCF and UPARR Requirements, D. Thomas Ross, May, page 38.
Programming for Peace, Edward R. Walsh, March, page 50.
Psychological Screening of Park Police, William O. Dwyer, Leslie E. Gray, and Wayne T. Kicklighter, April, page 57.
Quest for COPA Recognition, The, Donald D. Henkel and Tony A. Mobley, November, page 50.
Recreation and Education Combine in Newest Zoo Exhibits, David B. Slusarenko, June, page 26.
Research Breathes New Life Into Senior Travel Program, Michael Blazey, October, page 54.
Safety Management for Water Play Facilities, Claude Thompson, April, page 36.
San Francisco's Successful Public/Private Partnerships, Mary E. Burns, July, page 28.
Senior Games: Getting Better With Age, Beth E. Wilson and Margot H. Raynor, December, page 36.
Sunny, Sensational Anaheim: Site of the 1986 NRPA Congress, June, page 29.
Swim Shop Express Lessons, Betty Evenbeck, April, page 45.
Tennis in Your Community: USTA Courts Success, Rachel Ingber, November, page 46.
Ten Principles for Contract Administration, Michael J. Heydt, February, page 48.
Ten-Year Look at State Park Systems, A, W. Donald Martin, July, page 40.
Tourism and the National Parks, Priscilla R. Baker, October, page 50.
Tourism Comes of Age in the 1980s, John D. Hunt, October, page 30.
Tourism Connection: When Public and Private Leisure Services Merge, The, John L. Crompton and Sarah L. Richardson, October, page 38.
Tradition and Reform: China in Transition, Robert Frazer and Charles Hartsoe, March, page 36.
TV in the Parks: Sacrilege or Smart?, Melisa McCampbell, September, page 60.
Using Color Effectively in Park and Recreation Facilities, Donald W. Caudill, September, page 78.
Water Slides: Look Before You Leap, Dan Barks, April, page 51.
What Research Doesn't Tell the Practitioner, Alan Ewert, March, page 46.
Where Do We Go From Here? 1986 Congress Prepares for the Future, September, page 40.
Word to the Wise: Old Isn't Old Anymore, A, Frances Wallach, January, page 62.
World Expo 88—Leisure in the Age of Technology, Maria Menso, December, page 42.
Youth Fitness: A Challenge to Recreation Professionals, Matthew Guidry, December, page 39.
Zoos: A Blueprint for Fiscal Survival, Katherine Zwerin, March, page 42.

14th NRPA/Edith Upchurch Forum
On
Innovative Recreation Programming

Reaching Out. . . . Meeting A Need!

February 25-27, 1987
Rock Eagle Conference Center
Eatonton, Georgia


For information contact:
NRPA, Southeast Service Center
4319 Covington Hwy.
Suite 209
Decatur, GA 30035
404/284-5626